B.COM CMA

About

The Bachelor of Commerce (B.Com) CMA refers to a specialized program that integrates the study of Commerce with the Certified Management Accountant (CMA) qualification. This program aims to provide students with a comprehensive understanding of commerce-related subjects such as accounting, finance, operations, human resources, and marketing, along with a specific focus on management accounting. Our collaboration with It's My Logic further enriches this program, offering students valuable insights into current industry trends. The partnership also provides internships and job placement aid, facilitating students in acquiring work experience and transitioning seamlessly into the workforce post-training.

Career Scope

Graduates in management accounting and financial management can pursue rewarding career paths across various sectors. Potential career options include management accountant, financial analyst, and cost accountant, as well as budget analyst and internal auditor roles. Additionally, graduates may find opportunities as corporate treasurers, risk analysts, and investment analysts. Forensic accountants and international financial analysts also play crucial roles in the field.
